

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

TWO DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The packet ship Liverpool arrived at New York on Friday night last, with letters and newspapers to the 6th of February, being two days later than those brought by the steamship Hibernia.

We learn little from these arrivals, in addition to the news previously received.

The Irish trials were still "dragging their slow length along." Mr. Whiteside and Mr. McDonough were heard at great length on behalf of Mr. Duffy, proprietor of the Nation newspaper and Mr. Barrett, editor of the Pilot. Mr. O'Connell was to commence his speech on the 5th, and as it was expected that it would embrace a range of topics essentially different from that of the counsel for the traversers who addressed the jury it was looked forward to with great curiosity and interest. His statement will, it is said, be principally of a personal and political character—resume, in short, of the wrongs and grievances of Ireland, and of the various attempts made to wring redress from the English Government with which so much of the career of this remarkable man has been mixed up.

The Times, in a very able article reviewing the message of Governor Porter to the Legislature of Pennsylvania, condemns the narrow spirit of monopoly it exhibits, and expresses the apprehension that in excluding British wares from American markets, they run the risk of losing the British custom for that agricultural produce which is their great staple commodity.

The Court has gone into deep mourning on account of the death of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, the father of Prince Albert.

DEATH OF GEN. BERTRAND.—The Paris Messenger announces the death of Gen. Bertrand, the faithful friend of the Emperor, the companion of his labors and of his long exile, on the 31st January, at Chateauroux, his native town.

The general opinion amongst well informed men seems to be that Senhor Riberio's attempt to form a commercial treaty between France and Brazil will fail, notwithstanding the favorable disposition of the King and the French Minister towards such a treaty.

The Infanta Carlotta, the consort of Don Francisco de Paula, died at the end of January, at Madrid. She was the sister of the King of Naples, of Queen Christina, the Duchess de Berry. This event derives importance from the prospect it opens of the marriage of her son with the Queen of Spain.

Major Noah gives the following description of Broadway, New York, as seen in different lights.

Broadway by Gaslight.—A panorama of wick edness undisguised.

Broadway by Daylight.—Paint, padding, powder, and presumption. A picture of sin seen through a veil of morality.

JOHNSON'S REBUKE OF SUICIDE.—Boswell records the case of a man who had entirely lost his character, and in consequence committed suicide; a case which Dr. Johnson reprobated with great severity. "Why, sir," argued Boswell, "the man had become infamous for life. What would you have him do?" "Do, sir," replied the sage, "I would have him go to some country where he was not known, and not to the devil where he was known."

ALEXANDRIA CLAY CLUB.

A regular meeting of the Alexandria Clay Club will be held this evening at 7 o'clock, at the Theatre. The meeting will be addressed by the Hon. WILLIAM NEWTON and the Hon. J. M. S. CAUSIN. The Whigs in the adjacent counties of Maryland and Virginia are invited to attend.

C. T. STUART, Sec'y.

The Speech of the Hon. ANDREW STEWART, of Pennsylvania, in Defence of Western Improvements, and reviewing the Principles and Policy of Martin Van Buren; to which is added his reply to the attack of Mr. Weller, is just published, and now ready for delivery, at the office of the Whig Standard—16 pages large octavo—price, $12 50 per thousand.

THE JUNIUS TRACTS.—No. 6, Democracy, just received. Also, on hand: No. 1, The Test, or parties tried by their acts; No. 2, The Currency; No. 3, The Tariff; No. 4, Life of Henry Clay; No. 5, Political Abolition.

NOTICE.—Committees clubs, and all persons desirous of obtaining these tracts are requested to send their orders with remittance to R. FARNHAM, corner of 11th street and Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, or to G. E. KELLY & McELRATH, Tribune office, New York, who will promptly forward them to any part of the Union, as may be directed. Remittances by mail, post paid or free, at the risk of the proprietor. Price for any of the series $1 50 per 100 copies, or $20 per thousand. Postmasters are authorized by law to make remittances under their frank.

POON MAN'S PLAISTER for curing pain or weakness in the breast, side, back, or limbs—also, Euen's and Wells' celebrated strengthening plasters, just received at GILMAN'S, (late Todd's) Drug Store. jan 11—

LOCAL NEWS.

FREE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.—An able delegation from this Church, which has boldly stood out against the interference and encroachments of the British government, and surrendered their churches, parsonage houses, and all other property attached thereto, sooner than the right of conscience, are now in this country, laying their case before their Christian brethren, and receiving such aid as may be proffered to them. They preached in several of our churches, and in the Capitol yesterday, and the statement of their wrongs seemed to elicit a general and deep sympathy. No collections were taken up; but meetings were announced for the present week, at which the offerings of such as are disposed will be thankfully received.

THE DUST OF PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE. Suggested by the laying on the table in the House of Representatives the bill from the Senate, appropriating $40,000 to the improvement of the street aforesaid.]

BY THE CHEVALIER BACHELOR BOB.

When the blast from the regions of Boreas is borne,
Sonorous and shrill,
Over mountain and hill,
Like the sound of a horn:
The clouds o'er our house" to the deep ocean scour,
And the slop on the Avenue dries in an hour.

And starting meanwhile,
From the Treasury pile,
Look ahead, as the wind
Comes roaring behind,
And sweeping past you in sudden surprise,
The gust throwing dust in your innocent eyes,—

And behold in the gust,
What a column of dust,
Goes wreathing—and seething,
And boiling—and coiling,
And lifting—and shifting,
Its form to the skies.

How it sets you to sneezing,
And coughing and wheezing,
Till, finally choking,
You cry, "how provoking!"

Year in, and year out, so
And yet we can't have a new
Pavement of pebbles, or Rocks on the Avenue!

As the pillars of sand,
Tremendous and grand,
That move like dark towers,
In terror and haste,
O'er the burning and desolate
African waste.

This broad cloud of pulverized
Granite and clay,
Goes lowering—and towering—and scouring
Away!

And the hacks and the drays,
Deserving all praise,
Contribute to raise
This nuisance which darkens
The light of the day.

Oh, if there's a blessing,
On earth worth possessing,
The ladies esteem it
The privilege of dressing,
And bless their sweet souls,
Of moving in shoals,
Down our dusty Broadway,
At the close of the day.

With their wiles, and their smiles,
As they simmer along,
Through the bachelor throng,
All flashing, and dashing,
And graceful and gay.
But, gracious, this Avenue
Powder, which clings
Like a blight on the charming
And beautiful things,
Spoils their curls, and the girls
In their shining array.

For it makes them look faded,
And wilted and jaded,
And dusty, and rusty,
And sour and crusty,
And the creatures "cant shine,"
For, no matter how fine,
They seem creatures of dust,
And not creatures divine.

A plague on this dust,
(And Congress be cursed)
In withholding an act
So benevolent and just.
For the pulverized pumice
Through window and doors,
Spoils the food on our tables,
And the goods in our stores.

And the dress of a queen,
Is not fit to be seen,
If she walks for the air,
But the length of a square.
Ye sages of Congress,
For God's sake let's have a new
Pavement, of some sort
Upon the bare Avenue.

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS,

FIRST SESSION.

SATURDAY, MARCH 9, 1844.

The Senate did not sit to day.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

RHODE ISLAND.

Mr. RATHBUN, of N. Y., continued his speech upon the Dorr rebellion. Mr. R.'s speech was somewhat on the Jack Cad order. We understand he was a Whig until 1838, and, like most converts, he seems to have adopted the opposite extreme of his former opinions.

He insisted that the people, as the source of all power, were not bound by laws and constitutions, but might, at any time, and for any cause, throw off the existing form of the Government under which they lived, and substitute another. This was Jeffersonian democracy. Call it radical, jacobinical, or what you will, it is true democracy.

In reply to Mr. Cranston's remark that he would like to see the twenty-eight members of the Rhode Island Legislature brought here, and that he would like to see Mr. Dorr brought here, only it was not convenient—say, sir, said Mr. R., it is not convenient, but the gentleman from R. I. did not tell the House why it was not convenient; (Mr. C. said he had not time,) but I have, said Mr. R., and I will tell the House. He had heard from as good authority, not meaning any disrespect, as the gentleman from R. I., that Mr. Dorr was now confined in a den, such as is used for infamous felons, a den where he cannot escape from the filthy vermin that surround him. [This Mr. Cranston said was not true.] The gentleman had said that Mr. Dorr was a respectable man, but visionary; and that if he had been patient, he might now have been a representative on this floor from R. I. Yes, he might have been that, but he had now fallen in nobly fighting for the people of Rhode Island. [We had always understood that he did not fight, but ran away.]

Mr. R. went on to detail some of the barbarities practised by the arbitrary authorities of Rhode Island during the disorder in the State.

Mr. CRANSTON endeavored, several times, to correct the gentleman from New York; but was generally denied the floor, while the democracy of the House cheered Mr. Rathbun. Mr. R. said that the houses of respectable people had been entered, upon one and another pretence, by the Algerines, and that even the persons of women were subjected to examination. The conclusion which Mr. R. came to was, that the people of Rhode Island had changed their constitution, but their action had been condemned and trampled upon by the exercise of arbitrary power.

Mr. POTTER, of Rhode Island, next obtained the floor, and made a few remarks upon the Jeffersonian doctrine, but in so low a tone that we could not get their purport. The subject was then postponed till Monday next.

THE TARIFF.

Mr. McKAY submitted a written report explanatory of the new Tariff bill, and moved that it be printed in connexion with the bill. The printing was ordered.

Mr. J. R. INGERSOLL said that the minority of the Committee of Ways and Means would make a counter report.

Mr. LEWIS, of Alabama, wished to submit a motion for printing 25,000 extra numbers of Mr. McKay's report; and, as the motion was not in order, Mr. HALE, of New Hampshire, moved a suspension of the rules.

Mr. SCHENCK suggested to Mr. Lewis a modification of his motion, so as to include the same number of the minority report; but as this was not done, Mr. S. demanded the yeas and nays on the motion to suspend the rules; they were ordered, and the motion was lost: yeas 108, noes 60—not two-thirds.

NORTH EASTERN BOUNDARY AND COAST SURVEY.

On motion of Mr. J. R. INGERSOLL, the report of the Committee on the North Eastern Boundary, and some correspondence between the Secretaries of War and the Navy in reference to the appointment of officers upon the coast survey, were ordered to be printed.

PRIVATE CALENDAR.

The remainder of the day was taken up with the consideration of private bills.

He would advise a private families, keepers of hotels, boarding-houses, confectionaries, &c., who wish a supply through the entire season, to make early application, and they will not be disappointed, as many were last summer, by one or two small dealers in that article, who attempted to furnish and failed in the hottest weather, when it was most wanted. He has the largest house in the District, and will feel bound to furnish those who commence with him until next December if they require it. IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.—Richardson's Celebrated American Panacea, for the cure of the following diseases, to wit: Salt rheums, scrofula, ulcerated scrofula, bronchitis, fever sore, king's evil, erysipelas—inflammatory and chronic rheumatism, piles, biles, scurvy, chronic sore eyes, blotches or pimples on the face, scald head, and all cutaneous diseases, eruptions of the skin, or pains or ulcers arising from an injudicious use of mercury or an impure state of the blood.

This medicine is purely vegetable matter, and warranted free from any ingredient detrimental to health. Its curative properties consist in its producing a sure and effectual alterative of the whole system almost imperceptibly to the patient. It has not failed in a single case of effecting a permanent cure of the above named diseases, when the party using it would follow the directions and continue its use for a sufficient length of time. Experience has proved that in slight eruptions of the skin, or for piles or erysipelas one small bottle has effected a cure, while in obstinate cases it will take from two to four large bottles. It has been found entire y efficacious in producing regularity of the menses in females, and has been taken with great benefit in pulmonary diseases.

In addition to its great efficacy in eradicating disease, it is the cheapest of the kind ever offered to the public, as the extract is brought into so small a compass that a small bottle will last an adult from twelve to fourteen days, a large bottle about four weeks; while of the others, more than double in cost of the article, will be taken in the same time. It has been fully tested by many of the first physicians in the State of New York, and now used very extensively in their practice, and by them pronounced the most efficacious compound ever discovered from vegetable matter.

Persons while in its use, should abstain from all stimulating drinks. Strong beer, mustard and highly seasoned food.

DIRECTIONS.

For a child one year old, a small tea-spoon full—two years old, a large tea-spoon full. From six to ten years old, two tea-spoons full. From ten to fifteen years old, two thirds of a table-spoon full, and for an adult from one to two table-spoons as it may be found best to act upon the system; one table-spoon is quite enough in almost all cases, to be taken before eating in the morning.

It can be procured of the General Agent, THOMAS G. TALMAGE, No. 20 Pine street, opposite the Custom House, New York.
